

NIH Training Needs Assessment SUMMARY

The 2020 NIH Training Needs Assessment (TNA) is a biennial survey the NIH Training Center (NIHTC) administers to collect training data. The data assists the NIHTC in determining classes to offer and trends to follow.

Common Themes from the 2020 TNA

Request for more virtual classes

Barrier to taking training is time (38%)

Majority requests electronic version of Highlights newsletter

Project Management classes are in demand

Email evaluations after class

NIHTC is meeting most training needs

NIHTC's Plan of Action

1. Add more Project Management Classes
2. Continue offering virtual classes
3. Increase the # of <8 hr classes
4. Enhance marketing efforts
5. Concentrate on e-Highlights
6. Email evaluations after class

Feedback

"Great job with providing sign language interpreters for all training."

"The training center has always been incredibly understanding and great about making accommodations. Its always nice working with them."

"Classes at Natcher are great. Location is comfortable and easy to get to."

"I value and appreciate the NIH Training Center's resources and variety of classes that they offer."

"I have immensely enjoyed the training classes I have taken through the NIH Training Center over the years."

www.trainingcenter.nih.gov