

Special Note about FY23 Domestic Travel Offerings

To ensure offerings are available to fit varying schedules of our customers, the NIH Training Center will be offering the three-day Domestic Travel class with two schedule options:

Traditional three-day schedule on consecutive days of the same week (e.g., Wednesday, Thursday, Friday).

and

Irregular schedule where Day 1 is one week and Days 2 and 3 are the following week.

Students should confirm that they can attend each day of class before registering. Students must attend all three days in order to receive completion for this class. The offerings that have onsite days will not have an option for students to attend virtually.

The proposed FY23 schedule is listed below.

Note: Not all the offerings below are available for registration yet.
