Part III: NARRATIVE

1. Y __ N __ Is this work of an exemplary nature over and above the officer(s) job(s)?
Accomplishments must be exemplary in order to justify an honor award.

2. Y __ N __ Was this work part of a group effort? If so, proposed award should be a group award even if the officer is the only commissioned officer in the group.

3. Y __ N __ Have more than thirteen months passed since the accomplishments occurred?
A commissioned corps award nomination must be initiated within 13 months after the noteworthy activities occurred.

4. Y __ N __ Have officers already been recognized with a commissioned officer award for these accomplishments? An officer cannot be recognized more than once for the same accomplishments.

5. Y __ N __ Does award nomination meet specific award criteria (see INSTRUCTIONS I-IV, Subchapter CC27.1, Commissioned Corps Personnel Manual).
6. Y__ N__ Does narrative match citation in accomplishments cited? Citation should be brief, clear synopsis of reason for proposed recognition. This should be supported by narrative.

7. Y__ N__ Is period of time covered by the award appropriate for the award? Refer to criteria for guidance.

8. Y__ N__ Are accomplishments cited in narrative limited to those within period covered by award nomination? Do not include accomplishments which occurred outside the period covered by the award nomination as indicated in Part 1, No. 3.

9. Y__ N__ Are specific accomplishments and their impact clearly stated?

10. Y__ N__ If other awards were received within the time period covered by this award nomination, does the narrative include an explanation as to how these awards differ from or contribute to this nomination? As an officer cannot be recognized more than once for the same accomplishments, it is important to clarify how other awards received within the time period covered by this nomination differ from the accomplishments presently being cited.

11 Y__ N__ Is narrative too technical? Keep language simple and easily understood by multidisciplinary reviewers from a variety of Agencies and Programs.

12. Y__ N__ Does narrative speak for itself? No documentation other than the narrative will be used to evaluate the merits of the nomination.

14. Y__ N__ Does narrative exceed two pages? Nomination will be returned to your Agency if narrative exceeds two pages (no less than 12 pitch).
